The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art searched and cited failed to teach or fairly suggest an apparatus for detecting chemical agents comprising an ion source into which a test sample is introduced and in which a preset temperature at which the test sample positively ionized therein by corona discharge is 110 to 180 degrees; and a mass spectrometry section where the ions produced in said ion source are subjected to mass spectrometry in combination with the remaining elements of claims 1-6. Claims 7-10 are allowable because of their dependencies upon claims 1-6. The prior art searched and cited failed to teach or fairly suggest an apparatus or method of detecting chemical agents which comprises introducing a test sample, heating the test sample at 110 to 180 degrees, positively ionizing the resulting gas by corona discharge, subjecting the resulting ions to mass spectrometry, and detecting signals due a chemical agent to be detected in combination with the remaining elements of claims 11-17 or 22.
